Local Overseas Allowance (LOA) Rate Changes 2026

From 1 October 2026, some Local Overseas Allowance (LOA) rates will go up, and some will go down, depending on the cost of living in your location.

Check the new rates for where you're based before the change takes effect.

LOA explained

LOA is money paid to Service personnel who are working overseas.

It helps cover the extra cost of everyday living overseas, when prices abroad are higher than in the UK.

What's changing and why

Every year, experts check the cost of living in each country. They use information from the Employment Conditions Abroad (ECA) survey and the Office for National Statistics (ONS). This tells us if prices have gone up or down compared to the UK.

Two things to know about this year's changes:

1. Child rate is staying the same: The way LOA works out payments for children is being looked at again. Until this review finishes, child LOA rates will not change.

2. Second car payments are going down: New ONS data shows that running a car in the UK now costs less than before. As LOA compares costs to the UK, this means the second car payment is going down everywhere.

What you need to do

Look up the full details on the new rates for your location. These can be found in the Directed Letter 'Revised Local Overseas Allowance Rates effective from 1 October 2026' (on defnet and Defence Connect).

Your Offer, recognising your service

There are other allowances available to help with essential needs and family wellbeing while you're overseas.

Find out more in JSP 752 or visit Discover My Benefits to explore the range of savings, allowances and opportunities available.

MOD Christmas Families Free Mail Service 2026

Friends and family members of UK Service personnel based in The Falkland Islands, Ascension Islands and Diego Garcia will be able to access the MOD Christmas Families Free Mail Service at any UK Post Office/overseas Forces Post Office from 26 Oct – 21 Nov 26, after which the entitlement to a free small parcel service will cease.

BFPO numbers/locations which are additionally included within this welfare entitlement, are:

- BFPO 485 – Diego Garcia.
- BFPO 494 – Falkland Islands.
- BFPO 655 – Falkland Islands.
- BFPO 677 – Ascension Islands.
- BFPO 678 – Ascension Islands.

Customers can post MOD Christmas Families Free Mail Service items to the above BFPO numbers/locations, if:

- Free small parcels do not exceed 2 kg in weight.
- Free small parcels must have a fully completed customs declaration (CN22) and customers must tick the ‘gift’ declaration box on the CN22.
- Free small parcels don’t contain prohibited items (e.g. aerosols, shaving foam or alcohol).

- Free small parcels must be within size limits: Minimum one surface at least 90 mm x 140 mm. Maximum length + depth + width = 900 mm width greatest single dimension not more than 600 mm (e.g. an average medium shoe box size).
- Only relatives and friends within the UK or at BFPO overseas addresses can send free small parcels to named Service personnel and entitled MOD civilians.

All free small parcels must be handed in to a UK Post Office/overseas Forces Post Office and customers are advised to keep their certificate of posting.

[Send mail with the British Forces Post Office (BFPO)]

Wraparound Childcare (WAC) - Armed Forces Personnel Portal Beta Testing

Wraparound Childcare (WAC) - Armed Forces Personnel Portal Beta Testing

As part of the continued development of the Armed Forces Personnel Portal (AFPP), we are preparing to commence the next phase of Beta testing for the Wraparound Childcare (WAC) service. We are seeking current or recent WAC users who may be interested in supporting this important activity. User participation is essential to ensuring the service meets the needs of Service Personnel and their families and has been tested by representative users prior to wider release.

Expression of Interest Required

If you would like to be considered for participation in the Beta testing programme, please complete the Expression of Interest survey using the link below:

Expression of Interest Survey Link

Survey Deadline - The Expression of Interest survey will close at 2359hrs on Fri 23 Oct 26.

Only individuals who complete the survey by this deadline will be considered for participation in the Beta testing programme.

Planned Beta Testing Period

The Beta testing programme is currently planned to commence from Mon 2 Nov 26 and may be conducted across multiple iterative testing periods. This approach will enable the AFPP team to gather user feedback, implement improvements and, where required, re-test enhancements before wider release.

Selected participants may therefore be invited to support one or more rounds of testing during the Beta period. Each testing iteration will focus on validating specific aspects of the service and gathering feedback to inform future development.

As part of the Beta testing activity, participants will have the opportunity to use AFPP to complete the Wraparound Childcare registration and claims process using both MODNet-connected devices and personal mobile devices. This will help us validate that the service is accessible, usable and effective across the range of platforms that Service Personnel are expected to use in the future.

Note: Participants should only volunteer if they are comfortable using a live service and submitting actual WAC information and claims as part of the testing activity. Detailed instructions and support will be provided to all selected participants before testing commences.

Selection Process

Please note that completing the survey constitutes an expression of interest only and does not guarantee selection. Participant numbers may need to be limited to ensure an effective and manageable testing programme.

Following closure of the survey, participants will be selected from those who have expressed an interest. Successful volunteers will receive a follow-up email containing detailed information on the relevant testing activities, including:

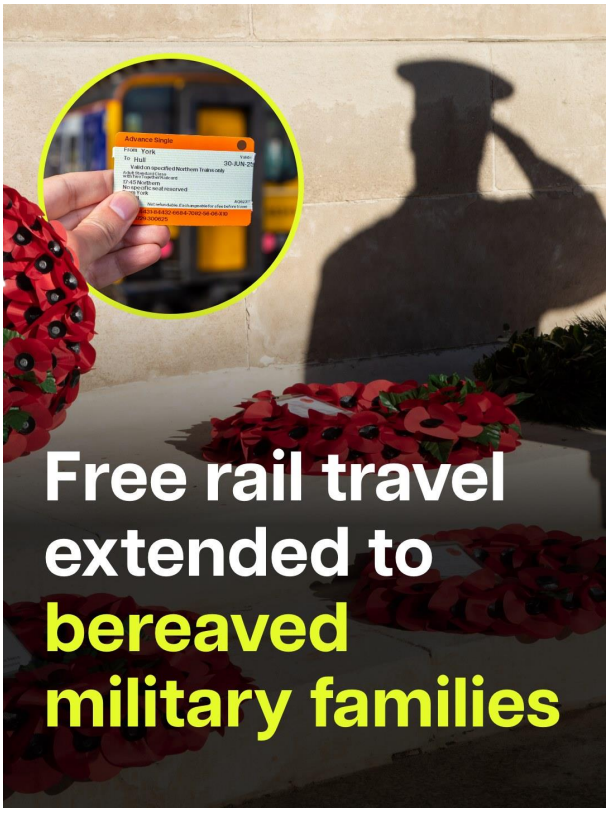

- Testing objectives.
- Testing timelines.
- System access instructions.

- Supporting guidance and training materials.
- Feedback and survey requirements.

Selected participants will also be required to complete and submit a feedback survey following each testing activity. This feedback is essential to supporting AFPP's Beta assessment, informing future improvements and ensuring the service is ready for wider release.

Thank you in advance for considering this opportunity to support the development of AFPP. Your participation will play an important role in helping us deliver a user-centred digital service that better meets the needs of Service Personnel and their families. We look forward to receiving your Expression of Interest and potentially working with you during the forthcoming Beta testing activities.

Defence update: Remembrance weekend - free rail travel for bereaved families

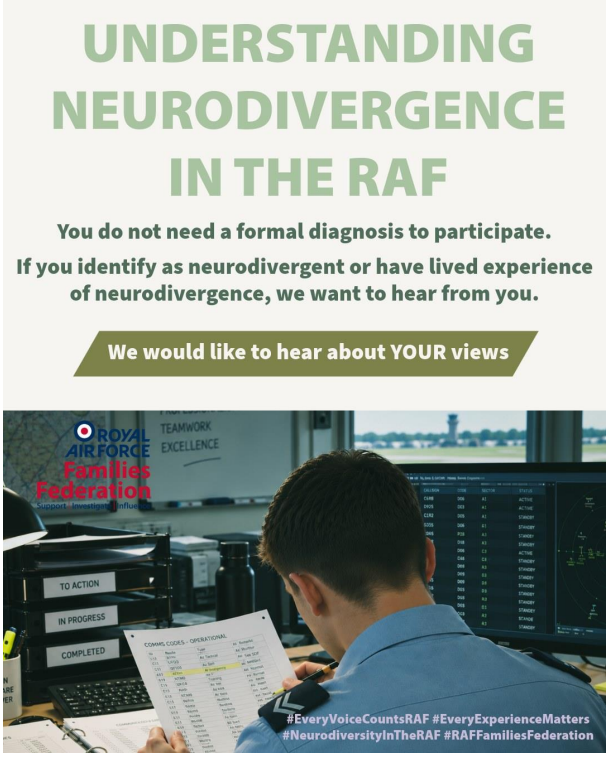

Defence and the Department for Transport have extended free rail travel across Britain over Remembrance weekend, for families of Armed Forces personnel who died while serving.For the first time, one close family member of someone who died in Service can travel for free on National Rail services. This applies to journeys to Remembrance events between 7 and 8 November 2026.The family member could be a spouse, partner, parent, child or sibling, who is registered as the nominated next of kin.This offer now matches the free travel benefits available to Service Personnel and Veterans during Remembrance weekend.Recognising bereaved families. This new offer will help families join Remembrance services and events, including the Cenotaph, without the cost of travel being a barrier to them attending.

RAF Families Federation Launches the "Understanding Neurodivergence in the RAF Questionnaire

The Benefits of completing this questionnaire are

- Gives neurodivergent personnel a voice.
- Creates a stronger evidence base for future decision-making.
- Helps identify what support is working well and where improvements may be needed.
- Supports the development of more informed policies and services.
- Contributes to a more inclusive RAF environment.

The questionnaire is available from Monday 14th September and will run until Monday 12th October

This is a confidential and anonymous questionnaire and will take approximately 10 minutes to complete on Survey Monkey.

RAF Families Federation Launches the "Understanding Neurodivergence in the RAF Questionnaire"

We are excited to launch the "Understanding Neurodivergence Questionnaire" on behalf of the RAF People and Families Support Team.

This evaluation is being conducted to ensure that the lived experiences and perspectives of neurodivergent personnel are heard and understood.

While support exists across the RAF, there has not previously been a dedicated opportunity to capture the collective voice of neurodivergent serving personnel.

This questionnaire will provide valuable evidence to help shape future improvements and ensure support arrangements reflect the needs of those they are intended to serve.

This questionnaire is for RAF personnel, including both Regular and Reserve personnel.

The questionnaire will gather views and experiences from individuals who identify as neurodivergent, whether through formal diagnosis, self-identification, ongoing exploration or lived experience without formal diagnosis.

Findings will be used to help inform future policy, support provision and decision-making across the RAF.

There is currently limited evidence about the lived experiences of neurodivergent serving personnel across the RAF, making it difficult to fully understand needs, identify gaps, and inform future lines of support.

The Benefits of completing this questionnaire are

- Gives neurodivergent personnel a voice.
- Creates a stronger evidence base for future decision-making.
- Helps identify what support is working well and where improvements may be needed.

- Supports the development of more informed policies and services.
- Contributes to a more inclusive RAF environment.

The questionnaire is available from Monday 14th September and will run until Monday 12th October

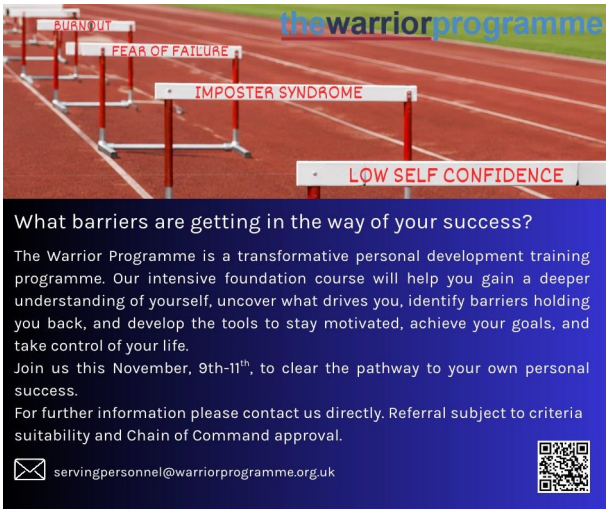

This is a confidential and anonymous questionnaire and will take approximately 10 minutes to complete on Survey Monkey.

Observations and a plea from the Road Safety Team (and the SHEF Office)

Please be aware that the SIDS (speed alert signs) will be to gather data on speeding hotspots

Please stop parking in emergency vehicle only spots outside the JRM

Bike safety, particularly those with children. Emphasis on parents to educate their children how to safety cycle on and near roads, emphasis on road users to be mindful that it is a community area and children will inevitably be playing.

Individuals are parking close to junctions, restricting movements of vehicles such as bin lorries and more importantly fire services. A reminder not to park close to junctions.

Service Family Accommodation (SFA) Communications Update

Military families invited to help shape the future of Service Family Housing

The MOD has today launched the Red Tape Challenge, inviting families to tell us about processes that are getting in the way of them enjoying their homes, so that we can work to change them.

This is just one of a series of new pledges setting out clear commitments to Service families on the quality of their homes, customer service, and ensuring their voices are heard.

Housing Matters – Episode 6

Episode 6 of the Housing Matters podcast is out now!

On this episode, actor and campaigner Anthony Cotton joins Emma Brett, Warrant Officer for Defence Homes, to talk about Service family accommodation and why having a home you can be proud of matters.

They discuss the improvements that have been made in recent years, while acknowledging there is still much more to do to ensure Service families have the homes they deserve.

This episode and all other episodes can be found on our “Housing Matters” Defence Homes page here.

Check your boilers!

While the warmer weather is still with us, now is a great time to make sure your boiler is ready for when temperatures eventually start to fall. Heating issues often only become apparent when the system is switched on after a long period of inactivity, so a quick check now could help you avoid problems later in the colder months.

Try turning your heating on and checking that your radiators warm up properly. It is also worth looking at your boiler pressure gauge. Most systems work best with a pressure reading between 1 and 1.5 bar. If the pressure is too low, your heating may not perform as effectively when you need it.

For guidance on how to check the boiler pressure and what to do if you need to top up your boiler pressure, step-by-step videos are available on the Pinnacle website to help you through the process.

Heating oil notice

As fuel prices increase, there is a small but increased risk of fuel theft from households using heating oil. While this affects only a very limited number of families, the following safety advice is intended to help those households reduce the risk of heating oil theft.

To minimise the risk of theft, we ask you to consider these measures if your home requires oil for heating:

- Secure the tank physically by installing a good quality lock on the tank cap. We also recommend contacting Pinnacle to request any foliage that may obscure your tank is trimmed or pruned back.
- Monitor oil levels regularly and keep a record of your usage.
- Work with your neighbours to watch for suspicious activity in your area and report any unusual behaviour to the police.
- Be smart with your deliveries by avoiding letting your tank run empty. Schedule the oil delivery when someone is home and request that suppliers not the leave the oil unattended.
- If a theft does occur report to the police straight away, then report the theft to your unit and Pinnacle. They may ask for your usage records, so it's important to keep track of them. Crisis and resilience fund

If you live in SFA, use oil heating, and are having trouble affording a fuel delivery, you may be able to access short-term support through the Government's Crisis and Resilience Fund. This funding, provided by local authorities in England, can help with essential living costs where there is an immediate risk to health or wellbeing. For more information, visit GOV.UK.
